Jackson 4.10 Homework Problem Solution ... We could have guessed this form of the solution based on the symmetry of the problem, but it is often safer and more instructive to go through all the steps. The right hemisphere is a separate region and can be now solved separately. In the region between the

This is now a problem satisfying Laplace's equation with Dirichlet boundary conditions. In section 1.9 of Jackson, it is shown that the solution for this problem is unique. The constant value of the potential on the outer surface of the cavity satisfies Laplace's equation and is therefore the solution.
