An R tutorial on performing logistic regression estimate. Using the generalized linear model, an estimated logistic regression equation can be formulated as below. The coefficients a and b_k ($k = 1, 2, \dots, p$) are determined according to a maximum likelihood approach, and it allows us to estimate the probability of the dependent variable y taking on the value 1 for given values of x_k ($k = 1 \dots$

Robust statistics are statistics with good performance for data drawn from a wide range of probability distributions, especially for distributions that are not normal. Robust statistical methods have been developed for many common problems, such as estimating location, scale, and regression parameters. One motivation is to produce statistical methods that are not unduly affected by outliers.
